FIERCE FIRE AT WATERLOO CAUSES $53,000 DAMAGE

Academy of Music Block, Windsor House and the Sweet Hall Buildings Wrecked—Fire Occurred Early To-day and Cause is Unknown.

WATERLOO, Sept. 17.—The largest fire in Waterloo in years occurred before 4 o'clock this morning, when the Academy of Music block, at Main and Virginia-st., was completely destroyed, and the Windsor house and Sweet's Hall buildings were wrecked by a fire which was already beyond control before an alarm was given. The total loss will approximate $50,000, according to estimates given by the property owners affected.

The principal losers were:—

Slack & Gridley, Academy building, $30,000.

Peter Connelly, Windsor house, $4,000.

W. A. Sweet, Sweet's hall, $4,000.

William O'Brien, cafe and residence, $3,000.

O'Neill, Wilkinson & McCarthy, groceries, $2,000.

George Lawrence, billiards, $1,000.

Jacob Christler, bowling alley, $500.

Mrs. F. Mason, bakery, $500.

The cause of the fire is not known. It started at the opera house stage.

Word was sent to Seneca Falls to come to Waterloo as the local department was powerless to cope with the flames which were destroying the business center of the village. Steamer No. 1 was quickly got in readiness, and with a full quota of firemen, started for Waterloo, but when nearly here, word was sent that they now would not be needed. The fire leaves Waterloo in the same predicament as Seneca Falls, without an opera house, and it is very likely that the Academy of Music, its only place of amusement, will not be rebuilt, as for many years it has proved unprofitable to its owners.

PUPILS SHOULD READ FICTION

Miss Schreiber, Before Institute, Refers to "David Harum" as a Model Book.

WATERLOO, Sept. 17.—The Seneca County Teachers' institute closed yesterday. Only two addresses were made on this final day, but both were of unusual interest. The first, by Miss M. E. Schreiber of New York was on the use of fiction in the school. In answer to the question, "Would you have children read story-books in school?" she said emphatically, "Yes."

She held that literature is not to be judged by classical standards, that literature to-day should be nothing but a picture of contemporary life, and that fiction is "almost its most valuable form." "David Harum" was held up as an ideal of fiction, and for children 'Sunny Sahib,' was commended, while "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and all theme or "problem" novels were condemned, as one-sided and hence not true.

Only in the case of novels of plot should pupils be asked to "tell the story," and novels of character and life were to be read for the characters and the life, not studied or reproduced. Among reasons for using fiction in school were to keep pupils out of mischief when not busy, and to serve as an incentive to a pupil to get his artithmetic lesson in the shortest possible time. Poetry, Miss Schrieber said, is wholly a matter of feeling, and one need not mind the thought. Hence the child should simply be led to read poetry and fiction, not to study it as he need not understand it, only feel it.

The last address was by Conductor Shaver, on "Why Some Teachers Fail," in which the causes of failure were given under four heads: Lack of natural instinct or adaptation for the work; lack of self-confidence; lack of a sense of the importance and dignity of the profession, and lack of discretion, especially in the matter of talking. Elements of fitness were consciousness of fitness, desire for the work, love of children, and a dedication to the work.

Expressions of thanks and resolutions of compliment closed the institute, which was regarded as one of the most successful ever held here.

TWO DEEP CUTS IN HIS THROAT

James Doyle Attacked Near Earlville and His Recovery Is Reported Doubtful.

THREE TRAMPS ARE SUSPECTED

Arrested at Norwich and Are Held There Awaiting Results of Doyle's Injuries—Other Norwich News.

NORWICH, Sept. 17.—Three tramps were arrested here yesterday by Officers Neil Lewis and Frank Butts, for disorderly conduct and intoxication. When brought before Recorder Hyde one had a badly bruised eye and his hat was cut, and he had other appearances of having been in a scrap. On being questioned he said he received the bruises by falling from a train near Earlville and denied ownership of the hat.

The three were remanded for further examination, and in the meantimo word was received that there was in the hospital at Binghamton a man who gave his name as James Doyle of New York, who had been brought to that city on the Lackawanna train reaching there at 8:20 Thursday evening, with two long deep cuts on his throat and the radial artery severed. He had been bleeding since 4 p. m. Thursday, when he and a companion were attacked near Earlville by three other returning hoppickers who were stealing rides from the hop country toward their homes. The wounded man was taken to this place on the train and from here to Binghamton.

From the description given by the wounded man to the authorities at Binghamton, it is practically certain that the man who did the cutting was one of those arrested here and who is now in custody. There was found on his person a razor covered with blood and his clothes were bloody. Reports received this afternoon from the injured man indicate that his recovery was very doubtful, and the two under arrest here will be held to await the result of his injuries. The prisoners in custody gave their names as George Warren of Chicago, John Connors of Newark, N. J., and Thomas Byrnes of Brooklyn.

CAPTURED HOSPITAL PATIENT.

NORWICH, Sept. 17.—Frederick J. Day, who escaped again last week from the Binghamton State hospital, was recaptured at the home of his father, James Day, near Haynes, yesterday. Day had been in Pennsylvania since his escape, and came to Norwich on an early train, walking the five miles to his father's house. The sheriff was notified, and Deputy Fred Page and wife left immediately for Haynes. Upon arriving at Mr. Day's, Mr. Page entered the house, and at the same time his wife, who remained in the carriage, saw Fred Day jump through a chamber window and disappear in a clump of bushes. Page and young Day's father went in pursuit, and upon reaching the pursued man the latter struck his father in the chest with a large stone, knocking the old man down and injuring him quite badly. Deputy Page then closed in with young Day, despite the latter's threats, and placed him under arrest, landing him safely in jail. He will be returned to the State hospital at once.

His address did not touch to any degree on politics but was confined mostly to subjects pertaining to rural life. He advocated good roads and the adoption of an amendment to the constitution which would permit States to issue 50-year bonds, to be financed by the State and the sinking fund interest to be divided between the State counties and towns.

Senator Depew arrived at 11 o'clock and was met by the following reception committee: Judge Dunwell, Editor William Van Camp, Editor McGonigal, State Committeeman Charles H. Betts, William Weeks, Jefferson W. Hoag and County Committeeman S. Cuyler.

EIGHT THOUSAND AT FULTON FAIR

Last Day Proves a Record Breaker and Races Were Most Exciting.

BITTEN BY CAGED ANIMAL

Young Neil Feeney Attacked by Leopard—Leap Year Party Attracts Many —Other News From Fulton.

FULTON, Sept. 17.—About 8,000 people gathered at the Fair grounds yesterday the last but not least day of the fair. The races of two days and part of a third were run off yesterday, and besides the ballon ascension and trained dogs, cats and monkeys, the unicycle trio from Brown's show were secured to perform on the platform in front of the grand stand, between the heats of the races.

At noon Prof. Lindsay made a balloon ascension, rising about 200 feet in the air when he jumped with the parachute landing safely, not far from the grounds. The balloon landed back of the Eureka Paper mill, and was uninjured.

The Fulton Riverside band gave a band concert at 11 a. m. and also played between the heats of the races and during the performances of the animals.

During the races the officials allowed people to gather on the sides of the track and it was a great wonder that no one was killed. But as it was, several people were injured by being knocked down by racing horses. Louis Sharp, an elderly man, was struck in the shoulder by the end of a sulky thill while attempting to cross the track in front of a racing horse which was going at a fairly good speed. Mr. Sharp was knocked down and upon examination it was found that no bones were broken. A young boy was also injure by running directly in front of a horse while crossing the track. His head was somewhat bruised but not very severely. There were also several very narrow escapes.

The most interesting feature of the afternoon was the races. The races were not concluded until 6:30 o'clock, when the judges declared the last race finished with one heat short, as the darkness prevented further trials. Summaries:—
