

Ace Admiral Wins Rich Race

Santa Anita Victor Earns $82,500 Purse

Rose Beam Gets Second Spot In Turf Classic

BY BOB MYERS
ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—The favored Ace Admiral, a handsome Tennessee-bred chestnut, captured the second running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity yesterday, whipping 11 other four-year-olds before 52,000 turf fans, largest of the season at Santa Anita park.
Grabbing the lead a few strides after breaking from the gate, Ace Admiral, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham of New York, staved off all challenges in the mile-and-one-quarter battle over a fast track and collected $85,200 in this rich race reserved for the four-year-old division.

Dinner Gong Third

Half a length behind in second place was the Foxcatcher farm's Rose Beam, with wealthy owner William D. Pont, Jr., watching from the packed turf club veranda. Third spot went to Dinner Gong, owned by Abe Hirschberg of San Francisco.

Jockey Johnny Gilbert, in a masterly ride aboard the son of Helios, guided Ace Admiral over the route in 2:02 1/5, in a perfectly run race for an added pot of money aggregating $137,200.

Ace Admiral was bred by Miss Mildred Woolwine at her Franklin, Tenn. farm and was purchased by Mrs. Graham's Maine Chance Farm for $30,000 in 1948.
The victory brought Ace Admiral's winnings up to $167,525.
Trailing in order behind the top trio were Vulcan's Forge, Mas-Miguel, Danada Girl, Manyunk, Orion Solidarity, Make-Up Man, Lurline R. and Quarter Pole.

Ace Admiral was coupled with Solidarity and rewarded the form players with a payoff of $67.70, $3.40 and $2.50.
Rose Beam, ridden by Michael Cafferella, was coupled with the Foxcatcher's Manyunk, and paid $6.20 and $4.10. Dinner Gong, with Eddie Arcaro aboard, paid $3.70.

'Swift Swede' By Pop

Erik Ahlden, Sweden's 5,000-meter champion, strides along with the effortless grace of a greyhound. The Swedish distance ace is six feet, two and looks even leaner than his 163 pounds would indicate. And he loves to run.
Ahlden lost no time in demonstrating that he was a bit too fast for the best of our home-grown two-milers. From the moment he stepped off the plane which transported him from Stockholm, Ahlden has been all business. He is here to win races, and the social activities he leaves to others. He was quick to accept the invitation to train on Princeton's board track which Clatty Geis, the Tiger track and field coach, extended upon his arrival. Geis must have schooled Ahlden in the art of taking the sharp, banked turns for the Swedish ace stepped out with complete confidence in his first start in this country and won easily.

If Ahlden had his choice, he would run only two and three-mile races. However, back in 1945, he ran the 1,500 yards in 3:48.2 before he decided that he was better suited for longer races. He has come very close to nine minutes for two miles and ran the 5,000 meters in 14:13.5 to post the second best time of 1948 for the distance. He was fourth in the Olympic 5,000-meter final after having defeated Emil Zatopek, the Czech army lieutenant, in one of the trial heats.

Appling and Walker Tops Among Active Performers As Sluggers In Baseball

NEW YORK. (AP)—Ted Williams and Stan Musial may have been the big stickmen in their respective leagues last year, but the lifetime leaders among today's active performers are a couple of veterans, Luke Appling and Fred (Dixie) Walker.
Luke and Dixie are the only current big leaguers who are members of the exclusive 2,000 hit club. At one time last season, there were five on the roster, but the release of Doc Cramer, Joe Medwick and Arky Vaughan cut the membership to two.

DiMaggio Also Tops

Appling, the veteran shortstop who will be starting his 18th season with the Chicago White Sox next April at the ripe old age of 40, has collected 2,571 base hits. The 38-year-old Walker, still a regular with Pittsburgh after 16 seasons in the big time, has banged out 2,013 hits.

Appling also tops all players with 1,229 runs scored and 416 two-base hits. He ranks third in the American league with 93 triples, and second in runs batted in with 1,045.
Walker leads the National league with 1,011 runs and 372 doubles. He is third with 95 triples, seventh with 104 home runs, and trails only Johnny Mize at the New York Giants with 1,005 hits. Mize, who also plays the National league with 297 home runs, has sent 1,006 bases across the plate in his 10 big league seasons.

Lifetime slugging honors, however, fall to Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees. The brilliant flycatcher is the majors' only century man in doubles, triples and homers. He leads in the three departments. Altho he has completed only 10 years in the major, DiMaggio already has batted in 1,217 runs, slugged 303 home runs and 111 triples. His 183 doubles is fourth high in the American league.

MOSES CLOSE

Barring injury, Joe is almost certain to join Appling in the 2,000-hit club. With 1,853 already in the bag, he needs only 147 more to make it. He collected 190 assorted base knocks last year. In the runs department, DiMaggio is second with 1,140.

Wally Moses, veteran outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, is another who is knocking on the door of the 2,000 hit club. He needs only 43 more to receive membership. The 38-year-old Georgian may find the going rough, however, as he is not expected to see much action in '49. With 1,011 runs, 394 doubles and 102 triples, Moses ranks among the top men in those departments.

Williams probably would also have been up there in all batting departments had he not lost three years to the war. At that, he is not far away. Walker scored his home runs fourth in runs batted in despite only seven years under the big tent.

Hob Feller of the Cleveland Indians is the No. 1 man among the American league pitchers. He leads the circuit with 177 victories and an even 2,000 strikeouts. Hal Newhouser of Detroit is runner-up to Bob in both departments. Hal has batters 152 games and fanned 1,439.

WALKER LEADS HURLERS

The majors' biggest winner, however, is Buckey Walters, player-manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Walters, with 196 triumphs, needs only two more to join the 200 victory club. He began the 1948 season with the same amount, but failed to bag a victory.

Dutch Leonard and Schoolboy Rowe, a pair of ex-AMERICAN league leaguers, are right behind Walters among the National league leaders with 185 and 155 wins, respectively. Johnny Vander Meer, Cincinnati southpaw, tops the strikeout kings with 1,266 whiffs. Walters, with 1,107, is the only other major league hurler to pass 1,000.

Costello, Andrews Lead County Loop Basket Gatherers

BY AL ROGLIANO
Ron Costello, high-speed Minoza forward, and Weldon Andrews of Split Rock, became the first County leaguers to reach and pass the 100 mark in points scored this season.

Costello's 12-point output against Baldwinville Thursday pushed his total to 106 points in seven games, slightly better than 15 points per game, and Andrews' 21-point spree against Marcellus Friday put him in second place with 105 points in seven games, for an average of exactly 15 points a game.

Mike Antil, idle last week with the rest of the eastern section of class CD, held his percentage lead over Costello and Andrews. The quiet Fabius center has netted 81 points in five games for an average that was just over 16 points per game. Dick Jones, lanky Fayetteville center, is in fourth place in the individual scoring race. Jones has bagged 96 points in seven contests, thus trailing Costello in the total-points end of it, and both Costello and Antil in percentage.

Fred Sheridan, Marcellus ace, is the only remaining County leaguer who has reached the 80-point mark, having flipped in 88 points in seven games.

SOLVAY OUT IN FRONT

Solvay continued to dominate team play, winning its seventh straight game at the expense of Fayetteville. The Bearcats have amassed 365 points in seven league tests, thus averaging 52 points per game. The top Solvay point-getter has been Gene Rabaglia, who is threatening the leaders with a 79-point total in six games.

The Bearcats do not play North Syracuse at North Syracuse Friday as originally scheduled, but rather Feb. 17 at the Coliseum. A week from Tuesday, they meet East Syracuse at the Coliseum.

BEES STILL IN RACE

Baldwinville stayed on the heels of Solvay in the class B race, topping Minoza Friday and capturing sole possession of second place as a result of North Syracuse's surprise loss to East Syracuse. The Bees have been coming fast in recent games, and expect to throw a wrench into the Solvay winning streak when the two teams meet Feb. 11.

Jordan was jolted out of first place in the western CD division last week, after having passed Skaneateles and Camillus on the strength of five straight victories. Skaneateles edged past the Jordans by dint of their one-sided triumph of Warner, 64 to 32, and Jordan's subsequent loss to Camillus. Camillus held the lead early in the season, faltered to drop to third place, then bounced back with two straight decisions to move into a tie with Jordan for second place.

This week's doings could toss the division into a triple tie. Jordan plays at Skaneateles. If Jordan should win, both teams would hold 6-2 records. Camillus could equal that mark by topping Warner.

JAMESVILLE UNBEATEN

In the east of class CD, Jamesville remains unbeaten. The division was idle last week, but swings into the last half of its schedule Friday. The Jamesville record of six wins in as many starts is second only to Solvay's 7-0 mark in county circles.

This week's schedule:
Class B: Liverpool at Baldwinville; East Syracuse at Fayetteville; Minoza vs. Jordan at Skaneateles; Warner at Camillus; Skaneateles at Solvay.
Class CD, east: Jamesville at Onondaga; Central Camillus at Tully; Lafayette at Camillus.
Class CD, west:
Solvay vs. Minoza; Skaneateles vs. Jordan; East Syracuse vs. Warner; Fayetteville vs. Camillus; Liverpool vs. Jordan.

Varsity Standings:

Class	W	L	Pct.
Solvay	7	0	1.000
Minoza	6	1	.857
Skaneateles	5	2	.714
Jordan	4	3	.571
East Syracuse	3	4	.429
Warner	2	4	.333
Fayetteville	2	4	.333
Camillus	1	6	.143
Liverpool	0	7	.000
